SUMMARY OF CALIFORNIAN NEWS. From Our Own Corresponds

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 6, 1858.

Since my last communication, two weeks ago, the Californian political campaign for 1858 has been fought. My last contained the names of the prominent candidates for State and San Francisco offices. The campaign has been carried on with vigor and considerable aerimony. On Sept. 1 the elections took place, when Joseph G. Baldwin, the Leconopton candidate for Judge of the Supreme Court, was elected by a small majority over John Currey, candidate of the anti-Lecompton and Republican parties.

In San Francisco, the People's party has again been triumphant-having elected its entire county ticket though with smaller majorities than last year. There were three parties in the field—the People's, to which is to be added the Republican, which indorsed the ticket; the anti-Lecompton, and the Lecompton. The anti-Lecompton and Lecompton together polled a heavier vote than the People's; but, owing to their split, the People's has a handsome majority for most of its candidates. Mickle (People's), for Auditor, has, however, a small majority over Chambers (anti-Lecompton and Lecompton). The whole number of votes cast at this election in San Francisco was only 8,742; in 1847 it was 10,578, and in 1856, 11,176. The decrease from former years is owing in part to the Fraser River emigration, and in part, it is said, to the fact that many Germans, belonging hitherto to the People's party, took offense because there was no German on the ticket, and refused to vote at all. On reckoning up the count, it appears that, the coming year, four out of twelve Supervisors will be Democratic. The power, throughout the Municipal Government, however, remains in the hands of the People's party. Owing to the union of parties, the Republican dates for the Senate and Assembly were elected

Owing to the union of parties, the Republican candidates for the Senate and Assembly were elected.

The California State Fair was opened at the City of Marysville on Aug. 23, and closed on the 28th. Able addresses were made by J. C. Fall and S. B. Bell. The Fair was successful, and about $10,006 received, leaving a handsome surplus in the hands of the Committee. About 3,060 visitors from places other than Marysville attended each day, and great satisfaction was manifested by all. In the products of the farm, the crehard, garden and vineyard, the display was particularly fine; the stock was excellent; ladies handiwork fine, and many of the natural wonders of our favored State combined to give an interest to the spectacle, which would not have been called forth at the sight of fine plows and fat swine alone.

The Mechanics Institute Fair of San Francisco, which opened with an address by J. E. Banks on Sept. Ist is also a success and bids well to continue so, during the period of its exhibition, fifteen days. The Fair of this Association last year continued crowded with visitors, day after day and evening after evening, for a number of weeks, and although the expenses were very heavy, nearly $10,000 remained to the credit of the Institute. It is not to be expected that the same interest will be taken this year as last, when the Fair opened for the first time, but the navilion is more taken.

As at the State Fair a great attraction here is the department devoted to fruits of various kinds, composing those of almost every latitude from the apples of the North to the figs of the South. In manufactures, of course, our young State is backward; but a stranger would be astemished at the various and excellent farming, mining and manufacturing implements, enginesiand machines of Californian make which are collected here.

A subject of great excitement, at the time, was a duel which was fought on Angel Island, in the bay near this city, on Saturday afternoon, Aug. 21, by W.

J. Ferguson of Sacramento, and George Ren. Johnston of this city. The weapons used were dueling pistols, at thirty paces the first shot, and ten paces the three succeeding ones. On the fourth shot Ferguson was struck in the right thigh, and Johnston in the left wrist. The wound of the former is serious, and may yet prove mortal; the other is trilling. The occasion of the difficulty were foolish words in a drunken row, and the community generally looked upon occasion of the difficulty were looksh words in a drunken row, and the community generally looked upon the matter as not worth interference. Ferguson was lately a Senator of State, Johnston is Clerk of the United States Circuit Court, and was a few years ago an Assemblyman, when he was instrumental in hav-ing a stringent but worthless law against duching passed, having, in fact, introduced the bill himself. Late news from San Diego bring information of a terrible excitance at that place on account of an an-terrible excitement at that place on account of an an-ticipated attack upon the town by bandits and des-peradoes from Lower California. The lower part of the peradoes from Lower California. The lower part of the State for years has been infested with assassins and robbers, who, being driven off by repeated Vigilance Committees, took refuge across the border. Greanumbers had collected in the mountains below San Diego, and credible information had been received that they meditated a general sacking and pillage of the place. At the last accounts, the citizens were undearns day and night. This was the state of affair there on Ang. 21.

there on Ang. 21.

The new notorious desperado, Jack Powers, who was one of a band of assassins and robbers of the southern counties, and who was lately indicted fo marder at San Luis Obispo, has escaped into Sonora Mexico. A few days ago, a letter is said to have been received from him, and was published in various Californian newspapers, to the effect that he had discovered a silver mine of immense wealth, and he wanted a supply of crowbars and laborers to assist him in making it available. He spoke of himself as being the richest man in America. The fellow is a cunning and a lacky dog. After murdering and robbing for years

The next new from the south was that dack not been indicted, and a bench warrant arrived for his arrest, but dack was nowhere to be found, and the next we hear of him is that he is in Somera, "the "richest man in America, and wants crowbars to dig out his silver. At the State Fair at Maryaville, the keeper of an At the State Pair at Marywolle, the keeper of an ice cream salom, mamed Showhite, was stabled and killed on the 15th August by another salom-keeper, named Sands, of Sacrameuro. In Marysyllie, also, on the same day, a young Maxican was shot and killed by a special polecular named Seybort. The former marder is said to have been a cold-blooded one; in the

by a special policeman tanned Seybort. The former marder is said to have been a cold-blooded one; in the case of the latter, it is said that the Mexican was found in the chamber of Seybort's mistress.

A man named Tom Careon, known as "Tom Panch," was killed by Indians in Mendocino County. His dead body was found on August 21, with seven Indian arrows in different parts of it. William Barr of Strawberry Valley, Yuba County, was brutally mardered on the 24th August. He had been in partnership with one Wilson, to whom he sold out his interest in business for $1,100, and left for a neighboring town. His body was found next morning. The munier is supposed to have been committed by Wilson for the money. A man named George Cabott, a cook at Illinois Bar, near Tattletown, was shot and instantly killed, on August 22, by James Obphant of Peeria Bar. This murder was almost entirely without provoccation, in a drouken row. On election day, Sept. I, in a fight at Sacramento, a man named Stewart was struck on the neck, and killed instantly. A Spaniard named Sancher was almost and killed by another Spaniard named Padillo at Yreka on August 23.

Readers versed in Californian affairs, will recollect the recovery a few mouths ago of $18,000 in Mexican silver coin, which after being shipped on the bark Cornelia at Mazatian for San Francisco, was buried at Cape St. Lucas by Captain Bennet, of that vessel, with the intention of appropriating it to his own use. The Captain scuttled his bark, and coming to San Francisco, reported the movey better and made a demand upon the underwriters. This great piece of intended rescality was exposed by one Joaquin Miraele, one of the vessel's bands. By intended; soon after the Cornelia affair, returned to Mazatian and became infimate with the wife of an old Spaniard named Corbia. He was indeed enught flagrante delecta with the Senora by the injured bushand, and a quarrel took place. Miraele the old man's house, but soon returned armed to the teeth, and killed Carbia with repeated shots and stabs. Miraele was arrested and tried for the marrier and sentenced to be shot. Our informant left Mazatian a few days before the execution was to take place.

A number of suicides have occurred lately. Among them may be mentioned one a few miles from Nevada, where a dead body was found, and the following note:

"I have found California a hard country to live in, and have chosen this lonely spot to die in. I die by my own hand, and my name ever remains a mystery." An empty strychnine vial was picked up near the body. John Cooper of Michigan shot himself at Dry Creek, near Marysville, on August 23. Adolph Roos, keeper of the Planters Honse, Valleio Mills, Alameda County, committed suicide by taking strychnine on September 1. He leaves a wife and seven children, the latter all under 11 years of age.

Every fortnight a great number of deaths occur in California by casualty. Fatal land-shifes, caving in of banks and drownings are frequent. It is almost impossible to keep the run of these fatal accidents; but a few of them will be mentioned. John Lynch was burned to death at a saw-mill in San Mateo County, in a remarkable manner. It appears that the saw-aust at the mill accumulates in large quantities there, and takes fire from its own inherent qualities. It is said to burn within the pile, leaving an outside crust. Lynch, as appears, fell on the pile, when the crust gave way and he was precipitated into a fery gulf, and in a short time burned to death. A Mr. McKenzie of St. John N. R. was the pile, when the crust Lynch, as appears, led on the pile, when the crust gave way and he was precipitated into a fery gulf, and in a short time burned to death. A Mr. McKenzie of St. John, N. B., was caught by a rope attached to a revolving drum, in Siskiyon County, on Ang. 13, and being violently wound upon the drum, had his neck broken and his entire body crushed. Affred Baker fell from a wagon near Sacramento, Ang. 17, and was killed. Milton Epperson was killed by the accidental discharge of a shot gan, on Russian River, a few weeks ago. John Monroe of Jacksenville, Ill., was killed by the caving of a bank of earth at White Rock, El Dorado County, on Aug. 17. Lewis Lauriat, a noted aeronaut in his time, died at Sacramento Hospital, in his 92d year, on Aug. 30. He was once Professor of Chemistry at a French college at Marseilles. He had made ascensions in balloons from Castle Garden, New-York. In all, it is said, he made sity two ascensions. In his old age he was Very dissipated.

stipments of treasure every fortnight, continue yield enormously. We continue to have reports fro every section of the mining regions of new discoveries On the 25th of August a nagget was found near Co-lumbia, Tuolunne County, of 54 pounds weight, con-taining 30 pounds of gold, and consequently worth nearly $7,960. It was found by a miner named Strain, nearly $7,000. It was found by a miner named Strain, said to be considerable of a loafer. Strain assured the gaping crowds which collected to see the nugget, that he knew where there was "a big patch of them dornicks;" but no inducements could prevail upon him to divulge his secret. Silver and gold are said to have been discovered in large quantities at Honey Lake. The much-talked-of "Treka Secret Expedition" left Yreka, at last, or August 17, and is said to be on the search for reported wealthy mines near the head waters of the Feather River, or in the Sierra Nevada mountains. The news from Fraser River continues to be discouraging; the river had risen several feet at be discouragitg; the river had risen several feet at the last accounts, which arrived here a few days ago. The adventurers to the north are returning by hon-dreds at every arrival, and much of the merchandise which had been forwarded to New-Caledonia is on its way back to San Francisco.

A law suit involving immense interests, was commenced on August 30, in the United States Circuit Court, before Judge McAllister. It was a suit by the United States Government, claiming the ownership of the celebrated New-Almaden Quicksilver mine in Santa Clara County. The nine is held and worked at a profit of $3,000 a day, as is said, by John Parrot, James R. Bolton, Alexander Forbes, and others. It is said to be worth over $50,000,000.

The Government claims that the Castillero title, under which Parrott and others hold, is fraudulent, and it is supposed that there is convincing evidence to prove it so. At all events, the suit promises to be one of the greatest magnitude in the United States.

magnitude in the United States.

Judge Blake of the San Francisco Court of Sessions a few days ago rendered a decision of great importance, provided it be sustained by the Supreme Court. He decided that an "injured party," though a black person, can, under the California statutes, be a witness "in all cases." The case was that of Jose Gibara, a white person, indicted for stabbing a negro named Pedro Mohica. Under the decision, Gibara was convicted almost entirely upon the evidence of the celored "injured party."

Suits to the amount of $60,000 have been commenced against the city of San Francisco by James Phelan, James Dows and others, on city warrants rejected by the late Board of Examiners.

Two boy thieves, by the names of Joseph A. Sterrit and Charles Smith, gas-fitters, have been detected in an immense number of burglaries and robberies in San Francisco, and are now in prison awaiting trial. They appear to have been carrying on their depredations for a long time, and robbery after robbery, including money of the San Francisco Post-Office, has been traced to them. Smith was caught robbing the

A German named Charles Dowse, the marderer of Peter Becker at a dance-cellar on Jackson street, in this city, on the 4th of June last, was arrested at Alvarado, Alameda County, on Sept. 1, and is now in prison here awaiting trial.

The State of California commenced suit a few days

The State of California commenced suit a few days ago for some valuable property on the corner of Broadway and Dupont street in this city, claimed as an escheat. It belonged to two heirless old men, named Morgan and Levick. One went down in the dil-fated Central America, the other died about the same time here. They left wills in favor of each other. They are not known to have any relatives.

The only disastrons fire during the last fortnight occurred on the 27th of August, at Indian Diggings, El Derado County. The entire business part of the town was destroyed. The loss is estimated at $30,000. The first stage from San Francisco on the Southern Overland Mail route left on Aug. 25, and a stage goes now regularly three times a week. No through passengers have as yet started on this route; but a number speak of taking it in a short time. An expedition speak of taking it in a short time. An expedition 20 eight-mule teams has been preparing to start in Stockton for Salt Lake, and was to get under way to-day. The wagons carry goods from here for the Salt Lake market. The wealthy firm of Loud. Hosmer & Tiltons of this city is heavily interested of Angust, with interesting news from the command of Major R. S. Garnett, of the 9th Infantry, now on a campaign in the Yakima country. He marched from Fort Simcoe on the 16th. After being a few days on the march, he ordered out Lieut. J. K. Allen, with 15 men, on a night expedition, who succeeded in surprising a camp of the hostiles at 2 o'clock in the morning, capturing 21 men. 50 women, with a corresponding number of children, 70 horses and 25 head of cattle. We regret to say Lieut. Allen was killed in the fight.

Three of the prisoners were identified as among the murderers of the miners killed last June, in Robertson's party, and, after a drum-head court-martial, were hung by order of Major Garnett. The effect of this brilliant little affair upon the enemy must be important, and our mining population must be gratified to see one instance of punishment of the Indians for their murders. The message sent by Major Garnett to Analchin, upon the reception of his impudent letter by the hands of Pearson, was contemptaous and decided.

Licut. Jesse K. Allen, of the Ninth Infantry, the Lieut. Jesse K. Allen, of the Ninth Infantry, the gallant young officer who was killed in this affair, was born in Tennessee, was appointed a cadet at West Point, from Illinois, and graduated in 1855. His death is greatly to be deplored; but he has met the death of a true soldier, and in the performance of meritorious and difficult service. With only fifteen men he accomplished the work, and conducted the march with so much celerity, silence, and skill, as to foil and surprise even a savage foe. Though but three years in the army, he had already by his service in this frontier gained a high reputation for zeal, energy and efficiency.

We have news from Forts Hope and Yale to the 21st ultimo.

Considerable excitement prevailed in con-

Considerable excitement prevailed in consequence of reported ladian outrages, by whom it was said forty-two white men had been massacred.

This report received confirmation by the finding, on the merning of the 18th, of twelve bodies, which were picked up above Fort Yale, and one of which was recognized as that of Mr. Miller of Fort Yale. Four others were subsequently found below Fort Hope, decapitated and otherwise inmiliated.

Three companies, numbering 184 men, started out to avenge the massacred. A later arrival, however, from the scene of the reported massacre, does not confirm it.

The following we cut from The Victoria Gazette: it seems that only part of the story told at Fort First Yale, the making out of the three companies from First Yale, the making of the treaty of peace by Capt. Scyder, and the subsequent arrival at the Leftan emp of Capt. Graham's company. Here the Indianashowed Graham the treaty, and were friendly, and as night the whites camped near the Indian rancheria. A party of Indianas who had been out on a "warhunt" returned to the rancheria about 11 o'clock 4t tight, and seeing a party of white could be companied.

A party of Indians who had been discounted but 'returned to the rancheria about II o'clock at night, and seeing a party if white men encamped acarthe buts, fired upon them without giving any notice of their presence. Before the fire was returned or repeated, the friendly Indians gave a signal, and successfed in preventing any further hostilities; then full explanation was made, and the newly-arrived Indians signified their willingness to abide by the treaty, and regret at the firing, and the wintes were partified. EXECUTION OF CLARK.

Correspondence of The N. Y. Tribune. Dasville, Pa., Sept. 25, 1858.

Yesterday took place the execution of William J. Clark. The morning dawned gloomily and cloudy, and about 8 o'clock the rain began to descend, and continued incessantly until late in the day. But, notwithstanding the pouring rain, and that the execution was to be private, several hundred persons collected from the surrounding country to witness the punish-ment of the wretched man. A large number of persons saw the erection of the scaffold in the morning, when about 91 o'clock the jail-yard was cleared, and the anxions crowd compelled to remain on the outside. At about 10 o'clock the military were called out and stationed around the walls of the jail. Several ministers visited the prisoner in his cell and engaged in religious exercises, in which he took a part. At 11 o'clock he was brought from his cell accompanied by the sheriff and the ministers, and ascended the scaffold with a firm step. He then delivered a speech, which tasted till five minutes before 12 o'clock, declar-ing his innocence, and accusing the witnesses who appeared against him at his trial, of swearing falsely. His voice was strong throughout, except when his coffin was brought and placed beside the scaffold, when it became tremulops. After he had finished, the 10th chapter of Job was read by one of the ministers, and a prayer was offered, and, at the request of the prisoner, the hymn:

"Rock of Ages cleft for me.

Let me hide myself in thee," &c.,

was read, and in the singing of which he joined heartily, and with an unfaltering voice. The cap was behind behind him; at four minutes past 12 o'clock the rope was adjusted, and at precisely six minutes past 12 the platform fell, and the body of the nurderer hung suspended between the heavens and the earth, and his soul was launched into eternity. He died. easy; his shoulders shrugged a little at first, but after the lapse of six or seven minutes his body remained perfectly stifl. His last words were: "I am an innoent man." The crime for which be suffered, was the murder of his wife, which was committed in May, 1857, by poisoning with arsenic. The evidence against him was wholly circumstantial, but conclusive. And although he has always declared his innocence, and scaled it with his dying breath, there are few who believe him to have been innocent. His accomplice and paramour, Mrs. Twiggs, who was convicted and sentenced for the same crime, awaits her punishment, which is to take place on the 22d of Oct. next, unless the Through Chili peace and order prevail, and the country is progressing favorably.

A few gratified their curiosity, but so great was the impatience of the oultitude, that the guards were not able to keep them from rushing forward, and the coffin was closed and the corpse taken away for burial. During the long confinement of the wretch, he was visited by a large number of persons, and always seemed cheerful and composed, and awaited his fate with a fortitude unparalleled in the annals of crime.

His mother, with his little daughter, came forward at his request, and he shook hands with her, and took his little one in his arms, kissed it, and all without seeming to be interrupted. So also with a brother. They all left the ground before he fell. He also, while singing, shook hands with some twenty others. Among them two of the brothers of his murdered wife. He had a smile on his face most of the time. There were but a few dry eyes on the ground during the scene. FRIGHTFUL OCCURRENCE—A MAS CUT IS TWO.—
We learn, through the kindness of an attentive correspondent, that an accident of a truly distressing and shocking nature occurred at the New-Haven Mills, Connellsville, on Monday. The mills, which are owned by Mr. G. Nicol, had commenced work, and the boits of the cog-wheel becoming loose, Harry Nicol, brother of the proprietor, undertook to tighten them. His brother told him to be careful, as his position was a dangerous one, and he replied that "he was always so." These were the last words he ever spoke; for a moment afterward, his brother, hearing a jar in the machinery, went to see what produced it, and was horrified to find the body of the unfortunate man severed in two and shockingly mutilated. It is supposed that he reached too far forward, and, his clothes eatching between the wheels, he was drawn in and mutilated as stated. The deceased was a married man, and leaves a wife and eight children to deplore his melanchely end.

The Board then adjourned. A NEW CHURCH FOR HENRY WARD BEECHER.

BEECHER.

A large number of the leading men of the Ber. Henry Ward Beecher's congregation held a meeting in the vestry-room of Plymouth Church, on Mondey evening, to take into consideration the subject of expression of the church, or building a new one. Four of five hundred men, generally men of substace, crowded the vestry-room.

The Rev. Henry Ward Bercher called the meeting to order. Horace B. Clarkin was chose Chairman, and Mr. Howard, Clerk of the Society, was chosen Secretary.

meeting to order. HORACE B. CLAFFIN was chosen Chairman, and Mr. Howard, Clerk of the Society, was chosen Secretary.

Mr. Beecher made a short speech, urging that it was their duty to make provision for those who were prevented from attending the church for want of room. He thought, in the natural course of events, he had ten years longer, at least, to liver and that ten years was likely to be the most active portion of his life. He believed he could preach as easily to 6,000 persons as to 3,000, if the church was properly constructed; and thus he would be enabled to do twenty years preaching in ten years; in other words, to double himself. There were four plans for increasing their church accommodations. The first was by altering the present building, which he was utterly opposed to; second, to sell the property and build somewhere else, which was open to some grave objections; third, to remove the present building entirely and rebuild or the same ground, placing the vestry, &c., in the basement, which he was inclined to favor; and fourth, to purchase adjoining lots to build upon, which seems to him the most feasible and advisable, all things cossidered.

A very general and rather free and easy interchange

A very general and rather free and easy interchang A very general and rather free and easy interchange of views on the subject ensued, from which it appeared that the congregation were generally in favor building a large church on a new location, occupying the present church until the new one should be completed, and then selling the present property. Model to the present church until the new one should be completed, and then selling the present property doubt whatever was expressed that the necessary tands, whatever the amount, would be forthcoming as soon as wanted. One gentleman suggested that could be raised by $10 subscriptions as fast as needed, and another, Moses S. Beach, offered to be one of 100 men to give $1,000 at once for the purpose.

The following resolutions were passed unanimously. Resolved, That it is the duty of this Courch to provide more ample accommodations for the presenting of the Gaspel in consideration what steps shall be taken for the extendit of church to contain not less than $6,000, to report the same at a meeting of the Society.
